Q & A

How to Use the Quality Principles?

- Reflection and Planning
- Site Visit Reflections
- Discussion tools

What other ways do you think you could use the quality principles?

Self-Assessing and Planning based on

Draft from Pat Fitzsimmons, VT

#3 Nurture a Culture of
Learning and Inclusivity

What do you have as a foundation to build upon? What are you currently doing?	Key Characteristics	What other principles does this connect with? What would you like to do in the future?	What elements or beliefs of the traditional system are likely to get in the way or need to change in your school or district?
	<ul style="list-style-type: none">• For learning through learning• Reflection as an important step in learning• Growth mindset• Relational belonging and inclusion• Cultural responsiveness

	Exemplars	Red flags	Insight bringing home
Purpose-Driven
Commitment to equity
Culture of learning and inclusivity
Growth mindset orientation
Empowering and distributed leadership

Discussion Tools

Step #1: Select 1 principle from each category.

Step #2: Opportunity to read and discuss.

Step #3: Select and read two case studies from CompetencyWorks or elsewhere.

Step #4 Discussion

- Which of the three design principles do you see evidence of in the case studies? How do they reinforce each other?
- What are examples from other schools or in your own efforts that are drawing on those design principles?
- What are examples of red flags or where implementation isn't robust enough yet?
